

Mars Power System Test Report

During the peak dust storm, solar-array output fell to 32% of normal.

Battery storage and load control maintained power to critical equipment.

Communications Test

Retransmission control stayed within limits during simulated delay.

Unicode extraction check: temperature 78°C, efficiency 95%.

